(family search thought) After 15 years of marriage and three children, Frances' husband, Alma Owen Erekson, left her for another woman. Later in life when Alma's now second wife, St. Claire Geneva Meredith was laying sick in the hospital Frances came to visit her. She said I forgive you. In 1969, Frances remarried to a wonderful man, George Maxwell Meredith. People asked her if she was going to get a temple cancellation from her first marriage and she said Heavenly Father will have to work it all out.
